Lecture notes:

Make it clear to participants when they should report on the progress made (the last five minutes of allocated time in the Agenda).

Members of the WGs are expected to revisit the results of Part 3 to determine whether, in light of the lectures given on Day 3, there are any additional factors and information that would need to be taken into account in the decision making on the termination of the emergency. The WGs will also need to consider who the interested parties might be that need to be consulted in relation to the transition phase, on what topics they would be consulted and how they would be involved and consulted during the transition phase.

Good luck!
